VOLUME CVI.---NO. 41. ALEXANDRIA, VA., FRIDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 17, 1905. PRICE 2 CENTS.

A CLEAN MAN.

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues and fibers in every organ of the body. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood.

Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh. It doesn t make the flabby fat of corpulency, but the firm flesh of health. It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol to inebriate or create craving for injurious stimulants.

Mr. John L. Coughenour, of Glen Savage, Somerset Co., Pa., writes: "My appetite was unusually poor, and I was as weak and nervous as though I had been starved for months. My heart kept throbbing continually and I was short of breath. Finally I wrote to you for advice and you informed me that I had indigestion and a torpid liver. I did not think your diagnosis was right, but I ordered six bottles of "Golden Medical Discovery" from you and began its use. After using three bottles I began to improve slowly and soon went to work, and I have been working ever since."

Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

CONDITIONS IN THE EAST.

The London Daily Telegraph's Shanghai correspondent reports that Gen. Stackelberg and three Russian infantry colonels were wounded in the fighting on the Hun river.

A dispatch from Mukden says that the Japanese fired Tuesday, and were firing Wednesday on Putiloff Hill, with 8-inch guns carryng 250-pound projectiles, indicating that they are siege guns used at Port Arthur, and the first to be mounted in position before the Russian lines below Mukden.

A new situation, therefore, confronts the Russian center, and the general situation appears to have been rendered more uncertain and complicated by the battle of Sandepas and the arrival of open weather indicating an early spring.

At some parts of the lines there is unusual familiarity. Russian and Japanese officers in parties entertain each other. At Sinchinpu the Japanese cheer the Russian band.

The following dispatch was received at Tokio yesterday from the headquarters of the Japanese armies in Manchuria:

"In the direction of Shakhe river our artillery, February 14, bombarded Chiensunmupaotzu and set fire to that village. The enemy's artillery, in the neighborhood of Sanchentzu Mountain, replied. During the night of February 14 a section of the enemy's infantry attacked Waitao Mountain, and at dawn, February 15, a battalion attacked Waitao Mountain, but the Russians were entirely repulsed. In the direction of Chitaitzu, on the morning of February 15, 500 of the enemy's cavalry advanced into Santaitse from Sheugtsalmen, three miles northwest of Chitaitzu. Another force of cavalry advanced south along the right bank of the Hun river on February 14, and passed the night in the neighborhood of Chenchaiwatzu, placing outposts in the vicinity of Kavehangtzu. Before the arrival of our detachment, dispatched to dislodge the enemy, his force began to retreat north. Our detachment, quickly pursuing him toward Heiyukou, inflicting some damage. The enemy's artillery, taking up a position in the neighborhood of Wanchaiwopeng, covered his retreat. The enemy's strength was about ten squadrons of cavalry and artillery."

The Russian guards at the damage railroad bridge between Mukden and Harbin had ample warning of the approach of the Japanese raiders, Chinese even giving their exact numbers, but the guards disregared the warnings as "wolf stories." The reports of the annihilation of the raiders are incorrect. Two Japanese were killed and two were made prisoners.

A volunteer company went out the night of February 15 along the valley of the Taitse river in an attempt to penetrate the Japanese lines. The volunteers engaged a body of Japanese and retired successfully.

Officers of Gen. Mistchenko's division have received news that Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky, a relative of the former minister of the interior, who has long been missing, was captured by the Japanese in May last while trying to penetrate in the rear of the Japanese army. He was stripped naked, led through the streets of Fengwangcheng, was insulted and then was confined in a dungeon for several days without food. Other reports of the mistreatment of prisoners are current.

Gen. Gripenberg, recently commander of the second army in Manchuria, arrived at St. Petersburg last night.

Kansas vs. Standard Oil.

A constitutional convention may be called to broaden the powers of the Kansas legislature so that it can successfully fight the oil trust in Kansas. Bills striking at trusts, particularly those dealing with oil, have met with so many objections on constitutional grounds that a sentiment in favor of a new constitution meeting the situation has sprung up. To this end a resolution submitting the question of calling a constitutional convention to a vote of the people in 1906 has been prepared and will, it is said, be presented in the State Senate shortly.

Gov. Hoch has not yet signed the bill providing for the erection by the State of an oil refinery, but it is believed he will approve the measure.

Along with its fight on oil Kansas also is making war on those who would pipe gas out of the State. In the House yesterday Holdren's bill to regulate the mode of procuring and transporting natural gas was passed by a vote of 78 to 32. Unlike the oil legislation, which seeks to make a market for that product, the gas measure is intended to restrict the sale of gas. Kansas wants the gas saved for use in its own industries, and to guard it a protective association has been formed.

The two bills passed by the house Wednesday affect not only the so-called "oil trust," but other combines. The freight bill makes the railroads common carriers and in this way the oil trust, as well as other trusts, are to be fought. The anti-discrimination bill, which has been set for consideration today, is said to have enough friends to insure its passage. This measure was drawn up with the intention of preventing any trust from entering Kansas and underselling the State.

A Touching Story

is the saying from death of the baby girl of Geo. A. Eyler, Cumberland, Md. He writes: "At the age of 11 months, our little girl was in declining health, with serious Throat Trouble, and two physicians gave her up. We were almost in despair, when we resolved to try Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. The first bottle gave relief; after taking four bottles she was cured, and is now in perfect health." Never fails to relieve and cure a cough or cold. At E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; 50c and $1.00 guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

They are sure in action and with no tendency to nauseate or gripe. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

FRIDAY EVENING, FEB. 17, 1905

THE WORLD is again startled by dispatches from Moscow announcing the assassination of the Grand Duke Sergius today. The victim was literally blown to pieces, as were also his horses and carriage. Two men who used the dynamite were arrested. It was hoped that the worst was over in Russia, and that the revolution there had run its course. Advices from that country recently have been of a more pacific nature. Workmen were represented as returning to their respective vocations, and the authorities supposed they had about subdued the turbulency that has been apparent in many places in the Czar's realms during the past month. The terrible event in Moscow today, however, proves conclusively that all the determined foes of autocracy have neither been curbed nor placed in positions where they can do no harm. The unfortunate Grand Duke was an uncle of the present Czar Nicholas. He had for a long time been detested by many of the Czar's subjects, and had been aware of the fact that he passed and repassed people every day who would murder him were they sure they could escape the consequences of such a crime. He had taken all possible precautions to escape assassination, but notwithstanding his safeguards he has fallen a victim to his foes. On March 13, 1881, the then reigning Czar of Russia was blown to pieces by dynamite.

A QUARTER of a century ago an attempt was made to thrust a school book issue on the people of Virginia. Substantially it was this: Should books be furnished children of the public schools by the State, or they be compelled to pay for the same, as at present? The advocates of free books were attempting to ingratiate their party into the affections of the many who would have rejoiced to have received free books as well as free tuition for those dependent upon them. The bottom soon dropped out of the movement. At present no real contentions are confronting the Old Dominion, and the grounds for precipitating an issue between the rival candidates for Governor this year are hard to find. Both gentlemen have tested the labor plank, and pronounced it strong enough to bear their weight, and in the absence of anything else upon which to disturb the peace of the Commonwealth the friends of the candidates are attempting to trouble the waters—generally serene—over which the Board of Education is presiding. Hence we have the "multiples" and "singles." Those who favor the multiple system see no reason why school boards of cities, towns and counties cannot be allowed to select books from several publishing houses; the "singles" maintain that but one series of books should be used in the public schools of the State. This issue is one of the flimsiest ever hatched in Virginia, and is about as logical as an attempt to compel every one to purchase the same variety of food in a public market house would be. The text book committee in Alexandria, in order to subject people to as small an expense as possible, adopted in the main books already in use in our schools. Specimens of books, however, sent the committee from different publishing houses proved to be equally as good as any now in use here. Some, probably, were superior. Now what serious objection can be urged against the action of officials in other parts of Virginia should they and those contributing towards the maintenance of the school system desire readers, geographies, histories, arithmetics, grammars, &c, which appeal to them more than the series now in use? This privilege is now allowed by the State Board of Education. Why it should be denied and why such a matter should ever have been lugged into a gubernatorial contest is hard to understand.

WHILE THE recent polar waves have caused no serious distress in this portion of the country, they have produced conditions in other localities which will long be remembered. As is generally the case, portions of the West have suffered most from the Ice King. A dispatch from Des Moines, Iowa, a day or two ago said that but one dealer in that city had anthracite coal for sale, and his stock was held at such fabulous prices that it was beyond the reach of the masses. It was impossible to transport soft coal, and many people were forced to resort to the western custom of using corn for fuel. The winter of 1904-1905 has been one of unusual rigor, the cold weather having been almost continuous, while the number of snows has exceeded those of former years. There is reason to hope that we have witnessed the more frigid scenes of the present winter, and that while there will, of course, be occasional cold spells up to and probably into April, conditions that are to follow will be much milder than those through which we have recently passed.

A BILL to regulate labor troubles and check precipitated strikes ordered by unreasonable labor leaders has been prepared by Professor George Watrous, of Yale University, and introduced in the Connecticut Assembly. Mr. Watrous is also the counsel for the New Haven Railroad. The bill provides for a Board of Arbitration to consist of two employes and two directors of the corporation involved, with the Attorney General of the State as the fifth member. This board is to take up any dispute that may arise and report upon it within one week, during which time neither is said to be allowed to take any action. It also provides that no strike shall be effective without three days' notice to the corporation, and that no company can increase the hours of labor or decrease the wages without three days of notice. No workman shall be allowed to quit until the day's work has been finished, and no employer can discharge his help without paying for the entire day. A penalty of $100 fine or thirty days' imprisonmens or both is provided.

IT IS STATED that 75,000 tons of coal are to be shipped from Baltimore and New York to the Philippines in foreign bottoms because of the excessive freight charged by the owners of American vessels. Taking advantage of the laws which favor American vessels, the owners of these vessels, when bids were asked for carrying the coal, put up the rates $1.50 per ton more than that obtained by those vessels contracted for and now chartered, which was considerably more than the bid of foreign vessel owners. This was so rank that those who sold the coal could not stand the raise so they entered into contract with foreign vessels to deliver the fuel at Cavite.

IMPECUNIOUS department clerks will be thrown into consternation should a bill introduced in the House of Representative yesterday to compel them to pay their debts under pain of dismissal be enacted into law. Mr. Dixon is the author of the measure which provides that all government clerks who owe debts and will not pay them, may be forced to do so. The bill should be passed at once and then the law rigidly enforced.

THE movement to organize co-operative stores for the purpose of boycotting the trust-made and trust-sold goods has entered New York State with the incorporation of the New York State Co-operative Company, whose capital stock of $50,000 has been subscribed largely by working men. The promoters plan to extend the stores throughout the State and the country. Their stores will handle every kind of commodity.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.

Officials of the Panama Railroad Co., were quizzed today by the House committee on commerce, in connection with their conduct of the affairs of the railway. Vernon H. Brown, a director maintained that he was ignorant of the definite financial condition of the railroad.

For the first time in history the legislative wheels of the government were still for a portion of today to pay tribute to a woman's memory. The occasion was the formal acceptance by Congress from the State of Illinois of a statue of Frances E. Willard, the first national president of the W. C. T. U. and for over a quarter of a century its leading spirit. Eulogues were pronounced in both branches of Congress, in the Senate at three o'clock and in the House of Representatives an hour later. The ladies' galleries in each chamber were occupied by distinguished members of the W. C. T. U. The statue occupies a position next to that of George Washington and is of Carrara marble.

The House committee on military affairs has directed that the resolution introduced by Mr. Lamb, providing for the return to the States of Confederate battleflags captured during the war, be reported with the recommendation that it be adopted.

A special meeting of the Senate committee on foreign relations has been called for tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock to begin the consideration of the Santo Domingo treaty. Senator Cullom, chairmrn, believes that the committee will not require a great deal of time for the consideration of the treaty and expects to be able to return it to the Senate with a favorable report some time next week. Whether it will be possible to ratify the treaty during the short time remaining of this session, will depend largely upon the number of Senators desiring to discuss it.

The Senate as a court of impeachment met behind closed doors at 11 o'clock this morning in connection of the secret session of yesterday afternoon, ordered to determine whether it should reconsider its action in excluding the voluntary testimony of Judge Swayne given before a sub-committee of the House of Representatives at the time the charges against him were being investigated. The debate is over the interpretation of a law extending certain immunities to those who testify before committees of House or Senate.

Among the nominations sent to the Senate today are the following postmasters: James W. Hughes, Huntington, W. Va. Fenton W. Gibson, is appointed Surveyor of Customs at New Orleans.

The Senate is preparing another slap at the President this time in connection with his management of the Panama canal enterprise. When the construction of this work was put under the direct control of the President who was to act through a commission, it was of course with the expectation that, if the interest of the public were not being properly guarded, or if scandals threatened, the President would take the necessary steps. Since Secretary of War Taft's visit to Panama and his personal investigation of the conditions obtaining the President has indorsed a bill which was introduced in the House by Representative Mann and passed by that body yesterday. It provided among other things for the abolition of the present Isthmian Canal Commission. In the Senate interests have been at work to prevent the passage of any legislation that would disturb the commission. Relatives and friends in the Senate of members of the commission have combined to serve notice that no bill can pass that body which will provide for either the abolition or the reduction of the commission. Accordingly the bill reported yesterday from the Senate committee on interoceanic canals, while following closely the lines of the bill approved by the President and passed the House, makes no attempt to disturb Admiral Walker and his collegues. If the bill passes in this shape it will result in a pretty fight in conference in which whatever weight of influence the President can exert upon legislation will be in favor of the plan deemed essential by Secretary Taft in order to ensure the prosecution of the canal work without the delays and scandals which disgraced the French regime.

Before the Cabinet meeting today Speaker Cannon, Senator Allison and Representatives Tawney and Wadsworth had a conference with the President about the naval appropriation bill. It is understood that the President sent for these gentlemen and informed them at the conference that he wished to have at least two battleships provided for. It is also understood that his callers expressed the belief that under the circumstances they would not be able to carry out his wishes.

President Roosevelt, Secretary of State Hay and Posrmaster General Wynne today signed a parcels post treaty with Great Britain and from this date packages up to 4 pounds, 6 ounces in weight may be sent to any point in the United Kingdom at the rate of 12 cents a pound. Heretofore the charge has been at the letter rate of ten cents an ounce. Lord Edward George Villiers Stanley, postmaster general of Great Britain, had already signed the treaty on the part of his country and forwarded it to Washington.

News of the Day.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain addressed the House of Commons yesterday, declaring he is not in favor of abandoning free trade.

Jay Cooke, the noted financier and the foremost figure in supplying the federal government with the means to prosecute the civil war, died at Ogontz, Pa., yesterday, in his eighty-fourth year

The residence of Walter Beaupre Townley, the British charge d'affairs at Constantinople, was burned yesterday, and Lady Susan Townley, sister of the Earl of Albemarle, had a narrow escape.

In a letter to Senators Simmons and Overman Gov. Glenn, of North Carolina, after stating that reports are in circulation to the effect that South Dakota contemplates purchasing more North Carolina repudiated bonds, asks that action be taken in Congress to denounce this act of a sister State.

After five hours' deliberation the Criminal Court jury in the case of Dr. Edward W. Dawson, the Forest Park dentist, charged with felonious assault on a 14-year-old girl, an inmate of the Kelso Home for Orphan Girls, at Forest Park, failed to reach an agreement in Baltimore yesterday and were discharged.

The directors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society in New York yesterday re-elected James W. Alexander president and James H. Hyde vice-president and agreed to give the policy holders a voice in the election of directors. All of the old officers were re-elected. It was said the meeting was stormy at times.

Under the spur of the Gates bull campaign May wheat shot up in Chicago yesterday to the highest point it has reached since the Leiter deal, when the top mark was $1.85, and the late Philip P. Armour spoiled things by delivering boatloads of grain. The high price yesterday was $1.21½, an advance of 1½ cents over Wednesday's sensational record.

The Pittsburg Leader prints a story in effect that there is now in the course of completion a scheme to make well-defined opposition to the United States Steel Corporation; that many of the old dismantled mills of the country, passed up by the strong corporation at the time it was formed, have been taken in and a $10,000,000 combine formed to manufacture steel and iron.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt's reception to the army and navy took place at the White House last night between the hours of 9 and 10:30 o'clock. It was the last of the formal social evening levees given each year by the President. It was also the most successful, the most largely attended, and the most brilliant of all the receptions of the season of 1905.

School Books Campaign Issue.

It is stated by those in a position to know that the question of school books will play a very prominent part in the contest for not only the office of superintendent of public instruction, but for the high positions of United States Senator and governor of Virginia as well.

The State school board some time ago, in arranging for the adoption of new books for the public schools, provided the multiple list, that is, indorsed a number of books, any of which the local boards were empowered to select. This, it is claimed, has resulted in a state of confusion in efforts on the part of the big book companies to control the local boards, and is an increase of cost to the patrons of the schools. All this, it is asserted, would have been avoided had the single list been adopted.

It is said that Gov. Montague was the only member of the board who favored this single list, and that it was his desire to have a plan adopted whereby the school patrons of both city and country would be able to secure good books for their children at the lowest cost.

Of the three candidates for the office of superintendent of public instruction, only one so far has made his views known on this question. Mr. J. D. Eggleston, jr., superintendent of schools of Prince Edward county, takes the same position as does the governor. He believes a plan should and could be adopted under which the cost of books could be considerably reduced. He is in favor of the single book system, adjusted to meet different conditions. He especially favors the single list in the country.

The views of the other candidates have not yet been expressed, but the issue will be a live one in the campaign.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

The net revenue of the State from the products of the sea, collected in licenses and fines, amounted to $48,668,71.

GOVERNMENT VICTORIOUS.

H. H. Asquith's amendment to the reply to the speech from the throne was defeated in the British House of Commons last night by a vote of 311 to 248. This amendment declared "that the various aspects of the fiscal question have been fully discussed in the country for nearly two years, and that the time has come for submitting the question to the people without futher delay." The majority of sixty-three by which the amendment was rejected is regarded as giving the government the first move in the political game and as finally disposing of any present prospect of dissolution of parliament.

The real event of the night's debate was the brilliant speech delivered by Lord Hugh Cecil, which is admitted by both friends and opponents to have been his finest oratorical effort and one of the best speeches delivered in the House of Commons since the Gladstone-Salisbury period, and as placing Lord Hugh Cecil in the forefront of possible leaders of the conservative party.

Lord Hugh Cecil is the leader of the conservative free traders, and the liberals had placed their hopes in him to turn out the government. He disillusioned them by contending that the free trade cause would gain by keeping the present goverment in office still longer, and, while he mercilessly pulled to pieces his cousin Balfour's ambiguous attitude on fiscal questions, he declined to vote for the Asquith amendment. The majority of conservative free traders will follow Lord Hugh Cecil's lead, and, apart from the possibility of some unexpected snap division, the government's position is considered safe.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Aside from the two hours spent in routine business, the Senate yesterday gave its entire attention to the Swayne impeachment trial. Two hours and a half of the time given to that case was spent behind closed doors considering the admissibility of a statement made by Judge Swayne before a committee of the House of Representatives. The point was argued at length by a number of the lawyers of the Senate, but no decision was reached. The Senate also considered, but did not conclude, the District appropriation bill.

The naval appropriation bill yesterday further occupied the attention of the House for a major portion of the session, but the debate was without particular incident and no material amendment was adopted. Its consideration had not been concluded when adjournment was taken.

May Boycott Inaugural Ball.

If certain disgruntled women belonging to official circles can have their way the inaugural ball, planned as the crowning trumph of the Roosevelt inauguration pageant, will not be the brilliant success its projectors fondly hope. A disposition is manifest among these woman and their friends to boycott the ball, and more than 20 wives of Senators have announced already that they will not attend. Various excuses are given for non-attendance, but privately some of these ladies have declared that after being ignored and slighted by Mrs. Roosevelt all winter, they decline to be dragged at the Roosevelt chariot wheels in the triumphal pageant. The majority of the Senatorial women complain of the "class line" drawn at the official levees. Certain women receive cards to enter by the easy method provided for the diplomats, while others are compelled year after year to stand in line with the great mass of unofficial guests. That they and their husbands are never asked to the state dinners or even to the unofficial banquets given at the White House, forms the grievance of another set. The result is that these women find nothing to temp them to the inaugural ball, where all the brilliancy will redound of the glory of the President and his wife. Another remarkable thing is that many of the Cabinet women do not intend to attend the function; but, of course, their action has no connection with the protest embodied in the attitude of the senatorial women. Mrs. Hay and her daughters, Mrs. Payne Whitney and Mrs. James W. Wadsworth, jr., have announced that they will not be present. The defection of so many conspicuous figures in the social and official world will certainly lessen the brilliancy of the pageant.

Bomb-throwing in Moscow

Grand Duke Sergius and His Carriage and Horses Blown to Pieces—Arrest of Assassins.

London, Feb. 15.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company reports an explosion at the Kremlin, the site of the Royal Palace at Moscow. The same correspondent also wires that wild reports are in circulation that Grand Duke Sergius has been assassinated.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 17.—It is officially confirmed that an explosion has occurred at the Kremlin, the citadel of Moscow. No confirmation is obtainable to the report current this afternoon that Grand Duke Sergius had been assassinated.

London, Feb. 17.—The Reuter Telegram Company has a dispatch confirming the reported assassination of Grand Duke Sergius. The dispatch states that a bomb was thrown by two men, who were in cabs. Both men were arrested. Both were wounded. Several students have also been arrested.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 17.—A dispatch received here from Moscow states that Grand Duke Sergius has been killed at the Kremlin by a bomb thrown under his carriage. The Grand Duke Sergius, who is an uncle of the Czar Nicholas, has won for himself the most heartfelt hatred of any man in the clique of hated men at the Czar's Court. His opposition to all movements for reform, his manifest detestation of the student body, and his fiery temper have aroused against him the most intense antipathy by all classes. This feeling is manifest in court circles, as well as among the revolutionary clans. For a long time the Grand Duke has been guarding himself against violence. After "Bloody Sunday," the day on which the workmen were shot down in the streets of St. Petersburg, the Grand Duke's apprehension for his own safety became more acute, and he took himself to Moscow, where he sought refuge in one of the palaces situated in the Kremlin, the high citadel of Moscow.

Here surrounded by walls and gates, that could stand almost any onslaught the grand Duke has felt, temporarily at least, safe from the assassin's knife or bomb. That his fears were not groundless is shown by the fact that on several occasions news has leaked out from revolutionary quarters that Sergius had been condemned to die.

Moscow, Feb. 17.—The Grand Duke Sergius was assassinated at three o'clock this afternoon by a bomb which was thrown under his carriage. The Grand Duke, together with his horses and carriage, was blown to pieces. The Grand Duke was driving from the historical museum in the direction of the Kremlin palace and was close to the law courts when the bomb was exploded.

Sergius' severity and cruelty was most noted during his occupancy of the post of Governor General of Moscow. Here time and again he dispersed gatherings of young men in the streets by sending sorties of Cossacks out against them. These emissaries of the Grand Duke rode into the ranks of the young men, rode them down, sabred them and lashed them over their heads and shoulders with knouts. His cruelty became so pronounced that authorities in the capital were forced to take cognizance of it, and Sergius' was forced to resign as Governor General. Grand Duke Sergius power with the Czar has been of the strongest kind. He is said to have influenced the mind of Nicholas to countenance the affairs which led up to the war with Japan, and to have kept the mind of the Czar inflamed against many of the officers in the army who were distasteful to Sergius himself. The Grand Duke was born in 1857. He was married in 1884 to Princess Elizabeth, of Hesse Darmstadt, but has on children.

Sergius, like the remainder of the Romanoffs, was a man of big frame, and had all the characteristics of a bully. The power was his, and he exercised it in the most objectionable manner possible.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

Moscow, Feb. 17.—The Grand Duke Sergius, uncle of Czar Nicholas, and next to the Grand Duke Vladimir, was killed by a bomb at the very gates of the Kremlin, the immense citadel which commands the city and which has so often proved a place of refuge for Russian royalty in times of peril. Sergius was instantly killed. His body is badly mutilated. The murder threw the city into a state of great excitement and troops were ordered under arms to suppress possible disorder.

The Grand Duke Sergius came to Moscow from St. Petersburg after the recent "Bloody Sunday" in the capital. There were reports that the anger of the people was directed largely against him and to escape danger he fled to the Kremlin. For a time he kept secluded. Then the strike turbulence slumbered and Sergius, thinking all was safe, again, ventured outside the walls of the citadel. But his enemies, the nihilists, were on the alert, and his fancied security came to a sudden end.

Today Sergius left the Kremlin in a carriage and drove to the Museum of History. It was making for three o'clock when the Grand Duke started on his return. As Sergius' carriage passed the law courts a cab which had been standing there for some time and which contained two men, drove in behind the Grand Duke's carriage. For the time the cab followed remaining a short distance behind. When near the Nicholas gate of the Kremlin, the driver, with a signal, whipped up his horses. In a few seconds the cab and the carriage of the Grand Duke were at close quarters. Then one of the men in the cab drew back his arm and hurled a bomb directly under Sergius' carriage, blowing the vehicle and horses to pieces, and killing and horribly mutilating the Grand Duke. The bomb was thrown at such close quarters that not only was Sergius killed, but his assailants were wounded, one seriously. The identity of the assassins is not yet known. The police hurried them off for surgical attendance and refuse all information. The wildest stories are current regarding the affair and the excitement is intense. Few sympathize with the victim, as he was detested to the utmost by the great mass of people. The Kremlin, near which the assassination occurred, is a district enclosed by walls. Five gates give egress. The district is the oldest part of Moscow and within the walls are the palace, senate building, arsenal, treasury barracks, and several churches. The Nicholas gate is the northeast entrance and leads out to the great public space known as the Red Square.

Sergius was most unpopular in Moscow because of his arrogance, severity and reactionary sentiments. The Grand Duchess, his wife, who is beloved by the populace, was recently warned not to go out with her husband, indicating that a plot to assassinate him was on foot. The remains of the Grand Duke have been taken to the Nicholas Palace.

Fire in Hotel.

New York, Feb. 17.—Abandoned to her fate in a panic when fire and smoke swept through the Hotel Winton, at Park avenue and 110th street, early today, a woman supposed to be Miss Lydia Themiel of Philadelphia, was burned to death. A number of thrilling rescues marked the fire. Cut off from the stairway exits, the patrons of the hotel climbed to the fire escapes, where they were rescued by firemen with scalding ladders. A man and a woman crept from a window to the roof of a stable adjoining the hotel on the Park avenue side. Billows of smoke enveloped them and almost suffocated they crawled to the roof determined to hurl themselves to the street. When about to spring, a ladder was lifted and they were carried down to safety. In all six women guests were rescued by firemen who used scaling ladders. When the fire was finally stamped out a fireman stumbled over the body of a woman in the hall of the fourth floor. In a bag found in the room she occupied the police discovered a letter addressed to Lydia Themiel. The damage is estimated at $5,000. Later Miss Themiel was traced to a neighboring house, where she had sought shelter, having fled from the burning structure covered only with her night clothing. Mystery now surrounds the identity of the woman who was burned to death, and whose body was thought to be that of Miss Themiel.

The Balfour Government.

London, Feb. 17.—It is generally believed in London political circles that the Balfour government will now be able to complete the present session of parliament without dissolution. It is not expected, however, that they will stand for a full year. An election is likely in the summer. Premier Balfour is succeeding in holding the Chamberlainites who are leading the fight for an early dissolution and a general election in check. How long he will be able to do so is a matter of conjecture. The Ulster unionists, who have been making their fight against Under Secretary McDonnell, are only partially satisfied by Secretary for Ireland Wyndham's attitude against McDonnell's objectionable attitude toward the Irish question. They threaten that unless McDonnell is removed or resigns, they will not support the government when John Redmond moves his home rule resolution.

Assault and Robbery.

Burlington, N. J, Feb. 16.—Outrage similar to that on Mrs. Biddle last year was attempted on the wife of B. Frank Birkitt, living in the lodge of the Masonic Home near this city, this morning. About nine o'clock a negro knocked at the door and asked for Mr. Birkitt. He was told that he was at the barn. The negro then attempted to push his way into the house, but Mrs. Birkitt resisted and was hit on the back of the head with a black jack, lacerating the scalp and knocking her insensible.

The negro then tied her to a sofa. He put a rope around her arms and body and then robbed the house. When the negro came back to the room where Mrs. Birkitt lay, he attempted to ravish her, but she had succeeded in getting her hands free and fought him for a while, but a blow on the head knocked her unconscious.

The negro then fled with his booty. Mr. Birkitt returned home soon after the negro had left and releasing Mrs. Birkitt he rode to Burlington for assistance. A posse is now being organized to hunt for the robber.

Murderer Hanged.

Baltimore, Feb. 17.—William Henry Jones, colored, was hanged here this morning at 10:25 o'clock for the murder of James Emory Cunningham, a watchman in the employ of Frey & Son, wholesale grocers, this city, on January 8, 1905. The carrying out of the death penalty was the quickest in the history of the state.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Feb. 17.—At the opening of the stock market today there was none of the weakness in evidence which was developed late yesterday. Some little irregularity took place after the initial dealings, which were generally at higher prices, but this was succeeded by a strong tone throughout. The local tractions were rather neglected and heavy.

Santo Domingo.

As stated in the Gazette of that day the message from the President transmitting to the Senate a protocol of an agreement between the United States and the Dominican government, providing for the collection and disbursement by the United States of the customs revenues of the Dominican republic, was yesterday ordered made public, together with the protocol, a letter from John B. Moore, formerly Assistant Secretary of State, which gives a statement regarding the award under the former protocol and the award of the commission which settled the claims of the San Domingo Improvement Company.

The message of the President is a full discussion of the whole subject, with the Monroe doctrine in the foreground. He held that if we are to maintain the Monroe doctrine and keep foreign governments out of the Western Hemisphere, we must collect their debts for them. If we are not to do this, then we must either drop the Monroe doctrine or fight for it under great disadvantages.

The proticol proposes:

That the United States attempt the adjustment of all the debts of Santo Domingo, foreign and domestic.

That it consider all the claims against Santo Domingo, determine their validity and decide the amount.

To take charge of all the custom houses and collect the tariff revenues, 45 per cent. to be used for the domestic expenses of the Dominican Government and 55 per cent. to be applied to the payment of the Republic's debts.

No change in the tariff or port duties can be made except in agreement with the President of the United States until the debts are paid.

The United States is to grant the Dominican Government assistance to "restore the credit, preserve the order, increase the efficiency of the civil administration and advance the material progress and welfare of the Dominican Republic."

Attempted Suicide.

Excitement was created in the crowded Reading terminal depot in Philadelphia, yesterday when a young woman drew a revolver from beneath her cloak and fired a bullet at her heart. The shot struck a corset steel and glanced off. To the police the young woman gave her name as Laura Young, and insisted the that shooting was an accident. Her sister, however, says she is Mrs. Nance Pollard, of a Virginia family, and that before leaving home in the morning she had wished she was dead. Mrs. Pollard has lived in Philadelphia for several years. She married in secret, and secured a divorce. She has been living with her sister, Mrs. Robert Reed. Miss Nellie Ball, a suburbanite, was sitting next to Mrs. Pollard. She told the police that the woman was apparently waiting for some one. "Then," she continued, "I saw her take a revolver from her wrist bag and put the muzzle under her waist. But she did not fire. Then she walked away quickly, returned again, drew the pistol and fired." When the physician who was called arrived he saw the woman was not hurt. Mrs. Reed, the sister, said last night that Mrs. Pollard had been despondent lately. "We both came from Virginia five years ago when my father lost his money. Recently we found that my sister had married and been divorced. I think she has since had trouble with another man." Mrs. Reed would not say what part of Virginia they came from.

Suit for Divorce.

Mrs. Dorothy Henry Henderson, the noted equestrienne, who has won fame at all the big horse shows of Virginia and of other States, has instituted proceedings for divorce against her husband, George G. Henderson, a well-known devotee of the turf, who disappeared from their home in Clarke county several months ago, and of whom all trace has been lost. An order has been issued from the clerk of the Circuit Court of Clarke county to Attorneys William M. Atkinson, of Winchester, and A. Moore, jr., of Berryville, on behalf of Mrs. Henderson. In the language of the court order the objects of the suit are to obtain for the plaintiff a decree of divorce—a mensa et thoro on the grounds of desertion; to obtain for her suitable alimony, and to enjoin the Shenandoah Valley National Bank of Winchester from delivering to the defendant any moneys or property in the bank's possession. The couple were married in September, 1904, at Millwood, Clarke county, and the plaintiff alleges that her husband subsequently left for parts unknown, and that it is not his intention to return. The plaintiff is the daughter of the late Maj. Henry, of Clarke county, and belongs to one of the oldest families in Virginia. She met Henderson at a house party in Winchester. After a short engagement, the couple were married at Millwood.

Big Suit.

An important civil suit came up yesterday in the Circuit Court, of Newport News, before Judge J. W. G. Blackstone. The case is that of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company against Andrew J. Jones, and the amount involved is nearly $300,000.

In 1894 A. J. Jones leased a large tract of oyster lands located just above the plant of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company from the government. In 1898, when stocks were built for the battleship Missouri, the shipyard company occupied a portion of Jones's oyster grounds, upon which the lessee had planted oysters four years before. Soon afterward the suit was entered, Jones bringing an unlawful entry and detainer action to secure possession of his property. The shipyard secured an injunction restraining the plaintiff from prosecuting the common law action and throwing the case into equity. Depositions have been taken from time to time and numerous surveys have been made.

Jones claims that the yard occupied over 15 acres of his oyster beds and damaged, in all, 120 acres. He asks for $150 a year for 16 years on 120 acres.

Editor and Official Fight.

A personal encounter took place late yesterday evening in the county court house between Mr. Frank Lyon, editor of the Monitor, and Mr. James E. Clements, a well-known attorney and Superintendent of Public Schools for the county. The two men had had a previous difficulty. Yesterday, it seems, they met in the office of the Monitor, when the editor took the attorney to task in regard to some excoriations of his paper. Mr. Clements made some reply in extenuation of his remarks, quoting certain words from the Monitor, when Mr. Lyon attacked the attorney. During the scuffle the latter drew a pistol and, according to his version, fired it into the floor in order to attract the attention of persons down stairs. Further on in the affray, Mr. Clements avers, he struck his antagonist over the head with the butt end of the weapon. Several parties rushed up the steps and soon separated the two men. Mr. Lyon, it was discovered, had emerged from the fight with a scalp wound, but Mr. Clements showed no injuries. Mr. Lyon in his statement admitted he precipitated the collision, but intimates that Mr. Clements shot at him. The editor had his head dressed at the Georgetown Hospital. A warrant was sworn out for the arrest of Mr. Clements. The latter in the meantime had gone to Washington. No attempt was made to arrest him in that city. He said, however, that he would appear in the county today and answer the charge against him. Commonwealth's Attorney Mackey went to Washington with a warrant issued by Justice Hagen, accompanied by County Jailor Collins. Mr. Clements was found at his office, but he demurred to being arrested on a Virginia warrant, claiming that the proceedings were il legal, and the officers were out of their jurisdiction. Attorney Mackey, Collins, and a Washington policeman awaited in front of the office to arrest him when he should appear, and take him back to Alexandria county. After a parley with several friends of Clements, who claimed they were willing to go on his bond for his appearance at Fort Myer, Mackey declined to accept the bond, on grounds that Clements was accused of a felony, and it was his duty to see that he was arrested and taken back. Shortly after midnight Mr. Mackey, thinking that Clements would stay in his office all night, decided to return to Alexandria county. Shortly afterward the police with him were called off by headquarters, and informed that they should not proceed against Clements. One of the causes of the trouble between Mr. Lyon and Mr. Clements was an observation in the Monitor to the effect that the Superintendent of Schools should be a resident of the county—not of Washington.

Up to 3:30 o'clock this evening Mr. Clements had not put in an appearance at the County Court House to answer the charges against him or to give bail.

Concert.

The concert to be given at Norton Memorial Parish Hall, on February 21st, will be a treat to the music lovers of Alexandria and the public generally. The programme is an attractive one, consisting of selections by the best vocal talent of Alexandria and Washington. The charitable object for which this concert is given should enlist the sympathy and support of the whole community. The proceeds will be devoted to the building fund of the Mission of the Good Shepherd, which is conducted in south Alexandria. This work has been carried on for several years in a rented room on Jefferson street and has grown to such an extent that a chapel is imperatively necessary to meet its needs. By the efforts of the Good Shepherd mission guild, under whose auspices this concert is given, the major portion of the amount required for the erection of this chapel has been raised, and it is earnestly hoped that the people of Alexandria, by their liberal patronage at this concert, will insure the early accomplishment of this charitable work.

Pretty Church Wedding.

Miss Mamie Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tayler, of Accotink, was married to Mr. Tutton Dove, last Tuesday night in the M. E. Church, by Rev. J. A. Shuler, of Hillsboro, Va. The bride and groom made a pretty valentine under an arch of green, decorated with roses and a wedding bell. The bride wore a gown of white silk, prettily shirred, she carried a bouquet of white carnations and her veil was caught by lillies of the valley. Miss Olive Javens, of Happy Valley, was maid of honor, and Miss Mabel Hunter, of Woodlawn, was bridesmaid; both looked charming in gowns of white. Mr. George Taylor, brother of the bride, acted as best man. Master George Dunn, nephew of the bride, in his suit of white, carried the cushion. Mr. Jimmie Taylor, cousin of the bride, was usher. After the marriage the bride and groom went to their new home in Accotink, where they received congratulations from relatives and a few intimate friends, after which refreshments were served.

Meade Chapel.

Meade chapel, Alexandria, which is part of Christchurch parish, is becoming one of the most encouraging colored churches in the diocese. For some time its condition was wellnigh dormant, but within the past eighteen months new life has been shown, and there is now a good congregation and Sunday school. The latter has had the very effective assistance of Messrs. Hill and Barkey, students from the Virginia Theological Seminary. The congregation has been ministered to by the Rev. E. E. Miller, who divided his time with the work at Gordonsville and parts adjacent. Arrangements are about to be perfected by which each of these points is to have its own minister, which will, it is believed, ensure the more rapid growth of the work.—[Southern Churchman.

The bread box in front of the store on the northwest corner of Wilkes and Royal streets was relieved of a portion of its contents at an early hour this morning.

Suit for a Receiver.

Mr. S. G. Brent, Commonwealth's Attorney for the city, today entered suit in the Corporation Court to wind up the affairs of the Virginia Trust and Savings Corporation, of which Mr. L. G. Smith was president, and for the appointment of a receiver for the concern. It will be remembered that a few weeks since the Corporation Commission sent their agent, Mr. Barrow, from Richmond to this city, to look into the affairs of the corporation. He sealed the safe in the office for some days and on his return to Richmond the safe was reopened, and it was stated by Mr. Smith that business would go on as usual. Mr. Barrow later made his official report of the condition of the concern to the Corporation Commission and upon this report Mr. Brent was authorized to bring the suit. The report presents a bad state of affairs. It shows that of the capital stock of $29,500, $25,000 is in stock of the Lee Fire Insurance Company which it is claimed is worthless, and the remaining $4,500 is held by Mr. L. G. Smith, his wife and Lindsey Rockwell, W. W. Abrams, D. C. Whitaker, I. A. Braddock, C. D. Church and K. Beal. A certificate of deposit for a considerable sum of money on which it is claimed money was raised in a distant city is shown, but it is said that nothing can be realized on this certificate. The individual deposits amount to $1,118.81, deposited by 115 persons, a great majority of these deposits being $1 each. The balance sheet indicates that the bank cannot meet its liabilities. The statement given is as follows: Assets—Loans and discounts, $12,824.50; stocks, bonds and mortgages, $25,000; furniture and fixtures, $1,313.50; checks, $30; specie, 97c; amount to balance $3,729.34; total, $42,898.31. Liabilities—Capital stock paid in, $29,500; individual deposits, $1,118.81; time certificates of deposit, $11,500; bills payable, $1,279.50; total, $12,898.31.

Judge Barley this evening appointed Mr. W. U. Varney receiver to take charge of the business affairs and assets of the concern and to wind up its business.

The River.

There was but little change in conditions on the river this morning. Boys were skating on the main channel, but the track made by steamers yesterday was covered by a thin sheet of ice which did not afford an impediment like that of yesterday.

The steamer Washington from Norfolk did not arrive until about 5 o'clock yesterday evening. She left on her return trip shortly after 8 o'clock last night.

The steamer Norfolk did not arrive until nearly 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Up to a late hour yesterday afternoon none of the Weems Line steamers which had been sent out from Baltimore last Tuesday had returned. The steamer Calvert left for the Patuxent river. The Middlesex left the Rappahannock early yesterday for Baltimore. Nothing has been heard of the Anne Arundel which started for the Potomac.

Deaths.

Mr. John Marbury, jr., died at his home in Washington yesterday, aged 33 years. He was well known in this city and was a near relative of the late W. H. Marbury.

Intelligence was received in this city last night of the death in Richmond of Anna Taylor, the bright and interesting eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren P. Taylor, who have many friends and relatives in this city who sincerely sympathize with them in their sorrow.

Personal.

Officer Young is acting as Lieutenant of Police in the absence of Lieutenant Smith who has recently been suffering from a benefelon.

Capt. H. C. Ansley and family have returned from a trip throughout the South.

Miss Nannie Marbury, who has been quite sick for the past week or two, is improving.

Mrs. R. W. French was painfully burned this morning while lighting a fire with coal oil.

Mrs. Wm. Maples has returned to her home in Charlottesville, after a visit to her sister, Mrs. James Miffleton.

Opera House.

The Tempest Dramatic Company continues to please small audiences at the Opera House, the bill last night being the military drama "Red, White and Blue." The play was well-acted and was of a highly patriotic nature. Tonight "Our Dorothy," a rural comedy-drama, will be presented. Tonight is also "amateur night," and a large number of young people will enter the contest. Three prizes will be awarded. A matinee will be given tomorrow evening at 2:30. Two prizes will be given—a large doll to the lucky girl and a pair of skates to the boy.

Run Over by a Train.

James Richards, jr., was the victim of a serious accident at the intersection of Duke and Fayette streets shortly before 8 o'clock this afternoon. The unfortunate man while endeavoring to cross the tracks at that point fell and a train which was passing at the time severed his right arm almost at the shoulder. The ambulance of the Alexandria Hospital was summoned and as soon as possible Richards was conveyed to that institution where Dr. Jones rendered surgical attention.

Approach of the Fishing Season.

In about two or three weeks' time fishermen will be preparing for this spring's catch. The fact that comparatively few shad were caught last year has inspired some with the hope that there will be a plethora of this toothsome fish during March and April. Shad and herring have already entered southern rivers, and some of those caught are exposed for sale in the market house. Shad sell at from 40 to 50 cents each and herring at 40 cents a dozen. They appear to be in fine condition.

Killed by Mail Train.

Joshua Slaughter was struck by the pilot of the last Southern mail train near the railway station at Culpeper yesterday and instantly killed. The old man was picking up coal on the track and did not see the rapidly oncoming train. The body was badly mangled, some parts of it being found 40 feet from the track.

There were no cases for trial in the Police Court this morning.

Passing of the Cold Wave.

The weather yesterday grew milder, and throughout the night conditions were more pleasant than for several days past. The mercury in the thermometer stood at 28° at seven o'clock this morning. There was a circle around the moon last night, and many weather sages shook their heads ominously.

Arrest of Suspected Thief.

Lieutenant Smith and Officer Roberts this afternoon arrested a man named John Collins, who is suspected of robbing an ark belonging to an Alexandria club. Collins had a gun and other articles belonging to the club in his possession when taken into custody.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The mercury at 2 o'clock this evening registered 44°. A thaw set in this morning.

Mr. Louis Brill received 10 barrels of select oysters at a very high price this morning from Baltimore.

The wainscoting in the kitchen of the residence of Mrs. E. S. Fleming, on Cameron street, between Fairfax and Lee, was found to be burning at 8:20 o'clock this morning. Officers Henderson and Lyles hastened to the house and extinguished the flames before much damage resulted. The fire was caused by attempts to thaw a frozen water pipe.

Quite a large amount of sewing was executed for the Children's Home yesterday afternoon by the members and friends of the Allison W. C. T. U. There will be no meeting of the union this afternoon, as the ladies desired to attend the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the statue of Frances E. Willard, which took place at 3 o'clock today in the Capitol at Washington.

A furniture wagon ran over and killed a valuable collie pup belonging to a member of the engineer corps of the R., P. & P. Railroad yesterday morning just this side of Spring Park.

A dance was given last night at the residence of Mrs. Timer, in West End. About one hundred persons attended and a delightful evening was experienced.

The night school will be held tonight in the Parish School, corner of Wolfe and Royal streets.

Nude Smasher at Work Again.

Within 24 hours after his release from prison, where he had served a sentence for smashing more than $2,000 worth of plate glass windows, John Grogan yesterday in New York returned to the scene of his escapade and started in to duplicate the feat of two months ago. After breaking three large windows he was overpowered and again taken to a cell. Two months ago Grogan appeared at the corner of Twenty-third street and Fourth avenue, altogether nude, and armed with a short iron crow-bar. Running rapidly down the street sung the crow-bar through every window for nearly a block before a policeman attacked him. Grogan then perched himself upon a heap of snow in the street, and, by freely swinging the crow-bar, defied arrest until after more than a dozen policemen had reached the scene. When he reached the place yesterday he was stripped to the waist although the thermometer was near the zero mark, and had as a weapon of destruction half a brick in a stocking. He was traversing the same route which he took two months ago, swinging a brick through one window after another, when a policeman crept up behind him and felled him with a night stick.

E. J. Carter Indicted.

An indictment for felony has just been found in the Circuit Court of Loudoun county against Edwin J. Carter, of Illinois. He is charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Several years ago Travis Carter, a wealthy citizen of Loudoun county, died, leaving a large estate. Edwin J. Carter applied for the estate, asserted that he was the sole heir, and received as the sole distributee the deceased's personality, and, as heir, sold his real estate, consisting of several farms, to Robert Costello, of lower Loudoun. Later other heirs, living in the State of Washington, asserted their rights and, establishing their relationship, Mr. Costello and others were compelled to refund to them their interest in the estate, amounting to several thousand dollars. Edwin J. Carter formerly lived at Marora, Ill., where he edited a paper and owned considerable property. His present whereabouts are unknown.

Fifty-Eighth Congress.

Washington, Feb. 17.

SENATE.

The action of the House of Representatives in returning to the Senate the agricultural appropriation bill, with a resolution declaring that an amendment therein was contrary to the constitution, and asking that it be eliminated, came up in the Senate today immediately after the opening. The Senate receded from its previous action. The amendment in question was one submitted some days ago by Mr. Hansbrough abolishing the drawback on wheat.

Mr. Hansbrough took the floor. In moving that the Senate receed from its amendment as "a soothing to the wounded spirits of the House, he expressed deep regret that the matter was not to be decided upon its merits. He declared that the House had taken no action to prevent the "pernicious practice" of the Treasury Department and stop its encroachments upon the tariff laws, but that it used a constitutional pretense to force the Senate to act in accordance with its wishes in the closing days of Congress.

Upon Mr. Spooner's motion the vote by which the bill was passed, was reconsidered

Mr. Foraker, said he would not oppose the motion, but he wished to go on record against the acton of the House. He did not believe its position well taken.

Mr. Morgan, declared that the House had transcended its authority in returning the bill. Mr. Spooner took the ground that the House was entirely within its power. He thought the House had a improper and dignified manner called the attention of the House to an excess of its powers and that the Senate was by the same procedure acting as it should do.

Mr. Money, Miss., took the same position.

The amendment was then disagreed to, and the bill with the amendent eliminated, was passed.

The District of Columbia appropriation bill, was passed, after an amendment was adopted increasing the limit of cost of the District municipal building to $2,500.000.

The diplomatic and consular appropriation bill was taken up.

When the court of impeachment assembled at 2 o'clock, Senator Hale announced that the object for which three hours secret session was held, had not been accomplished. He said that later he would ask that the court again take up the subject. It related to the question of admitting certain testimony given by Judge Swayne before a House committee.

HOUSE.

Chaplain Couden when the House met at noon today, offered a beautiful prayer, eulogizing Frances E. Willard, whose statue will be accepted this afternoon, as "the ungrowned queen of purity and temperance."

Mr. Dalzell, from the committee on rules, reported the rule on the statehood bill. It discharges the committee on territories from further consideration of the bill as amended by the Senate, disagrees to the amendments, and asks for a conference with the Senate.

Mr. Williams on the demand of Mr. Dalzell for the previous question on the rule, asked for a yea and nay vote, which was ordered.

The previous question was ordered 166 to 127. Mr. Dalzell explained that the effect of the adoption of the rule would be a non-concurrence in the Senate amendments to the statehood bill and the sending of the bill to conference.

Messrs Hamilton and Powers, republicans, and Moon, democrat, were appointed as conferees on the part of the House.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

The stewards of the jockey club in New York have alloted dates for a running meeting at Baltimore from Wednesday, April 19, to Saturday April 29, inclusive.

Six union republicans of the Delaware legislature left Addicks today, and scattered their votes. Addicks received fifteen votes for U. S. Senator; Dupont nine, and Saulsbury twenty. Two members were paired.

Mrs. Marie Wrecker-Hoch's death was due to arsenical poisoning. This has been definitely determined by the quantitative analysis of the woman's stomach and liver made by Dr. Walter Haines and Dr. Walter O. Lewke which has been complete and the results of which were announced by Dr Lewkes in Chicago today.

With turbulent scenes that marked sudden and widely spread quotations in cereals in the Chicago board of trade grain pits, May wheat this morning went tumbling down. The option, which closed last night at 121⅛, opened at 121⅛ and then with a wild swoop sank to 119⅜. The bulls frantically attempted to stem the slump and partially succeeded for in half an hour the price had returned to 122.

FOREIGN NEWS.

It is announced in Rome that a conference for the instituting of an international Chamber of Agriculture will meet some time in May.

The epidemic of influenza continues to hold sway in Rome. Cardinal Satolli, who has been ill, is now convalescing, but Cardinals Rampolla and Steinhuber are both seriously ill. Premier Giolitti is still unable to resume his parliamentary duties and several other ministers are ill with the disease. As a result, the chamber is languishing for want of work. It is estimated that there are 60,000 persons in the city ill with influenza.

A Rare (?) Coin.

That among a collection of seventy ancient coins, which, he says, were stolen from his apartments Wednesday night was one of the thirty silver shekels which is said in the Scriptures to have been the price paid Judas Iscariot for betraying Jesus Christ was the statement made Wednesday to the police by Marx Fischer in New York. Fischer is one of the proprietors of the automobile exchange of Libschick & Fischer. His apartments are in the same building, over his business establishment. Detectives have arrested Mrs. Margaret Wallmer, whom Fischer had been negotiating with to do housework for him. The coins have not been recovered, but the detectives believe the prisoner has shipped them, with other possessions, in a trunk to Greenwich, Conn. She was arrested in the Grand Central Station shortly before her train started. The Judas shekel, Fischer says, he discovered several years ago at an auction. He declares that a member of the London branch of the Rothschild family offered him $22,000 for it. Fischer estimates the value of the coin collection at between $50,000 and $60,000. In court Mrs. Wallmer was held for further examination. She knew nothing of the coins, she asserted.

Buried in Work Basket.

In accordance with a clause in the will of Mrs. Constance Miller, an aged and wealthy widow of New Rochelle, N. Y., her ashes were deposited in a work basket she had used for years and buried Sunday by a New-Rochelle undertaker in a grave besides the grave of her husband, John Bentz Miller. The strange burial took place in Woodlawn Cemetery. Mrs. Miller always had a premonition that she might be buried alive, and, to prevent that, she left a stipulation in her will that her body be taken to Fresh Pond and cremated and that the ashes then be placed in her fancy work basket. The undertaker placed the ashes in a glass jar, which was tied in the basket and then buried. Mrs. Miller died last week from Bright's disease.

MEDICINAL.

is one of the main symptoms of that terrible disease called Rheumatism, which makes life a daily torture to many thousands.

HAMLINS

is a treatment which affords a positive cure for rheumatism and allied diseases.

Applied externally, it relieves the pain at once. Taken internally, it cures permanently by purifying the blood of the lactic acid which causes the disease.

Anthony Smith, of Mayville, Ill., says: "I had such severe rheumatic pains in my arm and shoulder that I could neither work nor sleep and was fast losing all hope of cure, when I heard of and tried Hamlins Wizard Oil, two bottles of which performed a perfect, permanent cure." Price, 50c and $1.

The Paradise of Umbrellas.

Surakarta is the paradise of umbrellas. They are carried proudly over the heads of every official and every nobleman, but invariably are shut at the approach of a person of higher rank, and inside the kraton no umbrella may be carried open except that of the emperor himself. The umbrella is the crown, the wand of office, the outward sign of rank and distinction. There are umbrellas of gold inside and out for the emperor, of gold outside only for the empress, with a stripe of yellow satin for the emperor's brothers, with a wider stripe of the same material for his illegitimate brothers, of white silk with a narrow gold stripe for the illegitimate sons of the legitimate brothers, and so on ad infinitum. Every official, every military officer, exhibits his rank in his umbrella, which is invariably held from behind by an attendant whenever he leaves his house in sunshine or cloudy weather. There is an official guide book to the umbrella labyrinth of Surakarta which contains not less than 300 various designs in all imaginable colors and ornamentation.—Century.

Calvary Clover.

Calvary clover, a flower strangely symbolic of the principles of Christianity, flourishes in Palestine. Calvary clover leaves, like those of other clovers, are trefoil, embodying the doctrine of the Trinity, the central truth of Christianity. Soon after the plant begins to appear above the ground a deep spot of redlike blood appears upon each division of the leaf, but this disappears after a few weeks.

During the day the tiny leaflets form themselves into the shape of a cross, and as the sun sinks to rest the leaves again fold together, it has been suggested, as if in prayer. In due time the blossom becomes a small yellow flower and then a spiral pod covered with thorns. In ripening the flowers interlace, and in their peculiar positions many persons think they can detect the outline of a crown. Tradition says that it is good fortune to plant the seed of the Calvary clover on Good Friday.

Odd Australian Animals.

Australia produces those lowest of the quadrupeds, the duck billed water mole and the echidna, or Australian porcupine ant eater. They, along with the kangaroos, may be described as the groundlings of the mammalian family, for in respect of their structure they are of a much lower grade than, say, a dog or a cat. This inferiority is seen not only in the brain, but in many other details of their bodily anatomy.

In zoological circles the prevalent opinion is that this mole is a link between birds on the one hand and mammals on the other. These "lowest" quadrupeds lay eggs like birds, the young being subsequently hatched from the eggs, whereas in the kangaroos and all higher mammals the young are born alive and nourished by means of milk.

Spencer's Love Affair.

Herbert Spencer never married. When he was twenty years old he had something like a tender affair, and he tells about it in his autobiography. The young lady's affections had already been placed elsewhere, and she was only playing with the budding philosopher. One day her "young man" called, and they all went out for a walk. Spencer says: "She, taking his arm, looked over her shoulder smilingly and rather mischievously to see what effect was produced on me, there being an evident suspicion that I should not be pleased. The revelation was not agreeable to me, but still it did not give me a shock of a serious kind."

Killing a Robin.

There are persons at the present day—and not all old women either—who believe that killing a robin will bring bad luck. According to ancient belief the stormcloud was a huge bird. The Arabians represented his wings as measuring 10,000 fathoms. This bird lived on worms, the latter being the streaks of lightning accompanying storms. The Germans remodeled the fiction by creating the god Thor, whose bird was the robin. Consequently to kill a robin first meant death by lightning, then bad luck.

There is one rational way to treat nasal catarrh: the medicine is applied direct to the affected membrane. The remedy is Ely's Cream Balm. It restores the inflammed tissue to a healthy state without drying all the life out of them and it gives back the lost senses of taste and smell. The sufferer who is tried of vain experiments should use Cream Balm. Druggists sell it for 50 cts. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren street, New York, will mail it.

That Tickling in the Throat.

One minute after taking One Minute Cough Cure that tickling in the throat is gone. It acts in the throat—not the stomach. Harmless—Good for children. Sold by all druggists.

Public is Aroused.

The public is aroused to a knowledge of the curative merits of that great medicinal tonic, Electric Bitters, for sick stomach; liver and kidneys. Mary H. Walters, of 546 St. Clair Ave., Columbus, O., writes: "For several months I was given up to die. I had fever and ague, my nerves were wrecked; I could not sleep, and my stomach was so weak, from useless doctors' drugs, that I could not eat. Soon after beginning to take Electric Bitters I obtained relief, and in a short time I was entirely cured." Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; price 50c.

Perfect Confidence.

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Basford, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.
